

FRAMEWORK OF A TALENT CONSORTIUM

Talent consortia are the foundation of the Marshall Plan for Talent. These groups are not limited by geography or size - they can come together from around the state to address a specific talent need. A clear plan of action is developed by the group to meet a growing talent demand. Talent consortia are made up of stakeholders from industry, education, and community organizations.

All components of the talent consortium are involved in engaging parents.